RESIDENCE ROBBED.

Thief Secures Cash From Mr. Meyer's Pocket.

Mr. Max Meyer's residence on Sixth street was entered by a burglar Saturday night. The thief broke open the meat shop, which is on the lower floor, and proceeded up stairs. He secured $6 from Mr. Meyer's pants. Members of the family were awakened by the noise of the burglar in the room and when they demanded to know who it was the thief made a hasty exit and escaped. Mr. Meyer has offered a reward of $20 for his capture and conviction.

MASS CONVENTIONS.

Republicans Will Nominate Candidate for Circuit Judge.

Judge A. H. Anderson, chairman of the Republican district committee of the Third judicial district, has called mass conventions in each of the four counties for Saturday, Aug. 1, to nominate a candidate for circuit judge. The conventions will be held at 2 p. m. The delegate convention will be held in this city Tuesday, Aug. 4.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.

James Grant Furnishes $2,500 and is Released.

James Grant, charged with the murder of Harrison Hamby, was called before Judge Fowler yesterday. The prisoner waived examining trial. Bond was fixed at $2,500. Grant furnished bail and was released from jail.

Meeting of Medical Men.

The Christian County Medical Society met in Dr. B. F. Eager's office yesterday. There was a full attendance, every section of the county being represented. Numerous clinical cases were reported and the discussions proved interesting and instructive throughout. A very interesting paper on Serum Therapy was read by Dr. T. W. Blakey and discussed by different members of the society. At the afternoon session two patients were presented by Dr. J. S. Rascoe, of Julien, for ematination.

CITY OF MORMONS.

Most Interesting Mountain Metropolis in America.

Two Days Spent in Sight Seeing and Off For Yellowstone Park.

(EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

Salt Lake City, Utah July 14.--After my last letter was written from Omaha, the N. E. A. was royally entertained by the city of Council Bluffs, Ia., on Friday. This beautiful little city is just across the Missouri river from Omaha and the reception it gave the body was one of the pleasantest of the many delightful experiences of the present meeting. The editors were taken in electric cars to the beautiful Baylers park in the heart of the city, where a reception was held in the open air. Fountains were playing, music was discoursed, pretty girls distributed flowers and after speeches by Congressman Walter I. Smith and Editor Victor Bender, a luncheon was served from long tables under the shade trees. Then after some more speeches and a formal invitation extended from the mayor of Deadwood, all hands were taken out to Manawa lake, four miles in the country, the fashionable summer resort of Council Bluffs. Here a variety of amusements had been provided, including boat rides on the lake, bathing and music. From the park, the party returned to Omaha and at 11:30 that night section number one of the Yellowstone Park party left for Salt Lake city. The entire party comprises 115 persons, but they have to travel in parties of about 60, on account of the park accommodations. The second section is a day behind the first. In the first section of 65 persons are the following 38 gentlemen and 27 ladies:

Our party, representing twelve states, is traveling in two Pullman cars. In my car a Kentucky negro is the porter and he is looking closely to the comfort of his "home folks." We will be with him for about two weeks, off and on.

The trip to Salt Lake City was made over the Union Pacific, a distance of 1,040 miles, in 36 hours. We reached there about noon Sunday. The first part of the trip was made in the night and the desert was crossed the second night. The mountain scenery Sunday morning was not grand but it was ever changing and interesting. Occasionally we would pass a snow-capped peak visible from the car window.

The important towns were Cheyenne and Laramie, Wyoming, and Ogden, Utah. We also passed Rawlins, Wyo., where 235 miners were killed in a coal mine explosion a few days before.

Ogden is 37 miles from Salt Lake City and the road runs in sight of the great Salt Lake, which is 90 miles long and 40 miles wide in places. Salt Lake City is well supplied with good hotels. The editors were soon located and the next morning section two arrived with 50 more of the N. E. A. A program of entertainment was carried out Monday, including a ride on trolley cars all over the city, a trip to the bathing resort at the lake and a concert at night. Nearly all of the visitors took a plunge in the salt water, which is 22 per cent. salt on the bottom. The lake is gradually drying up, having receded greatly since the writer was here in 1888. The bathhouse pavilion used to be over the water, but now it is surrounded by a bed of salt, a hundred yards from the water, which is very shallow for 200 yards out.

The concert at night was in the big Mormon tabernacle and about 3000 people were present. The editors were given reserved seats in the gallery. Near by is the great Temple. It is one of the finest buildings in America.

Points About Salt Lake.

Salt Lake City was founded July 24th, 1847, by a company of Mormons, led by Brigham Young. The Temple--The corner stone was laid April 6, 1853; finished April 6th, 1893.

It is 200 by 100 feet; the walls are 100 feet high, and the eastern tower is 125 feet high. It is built entirely of granite. The Tabernacle is 250 by 150 feet, and 70 feet high. It will seat about 10,000, and contains one of the finest organs in the world. The Assembly Hall is 120 by 68 feet; cost $150,000, and it will seat 2,500.

The Lion, Bee Hive and Gardo Houses were built by Brigham Young for residences.

The Salt Lake theater is situated on the corner of State and First South

Street. There are nearly 100 miles of streets in Salt Lake City, 132 feet wide. The block are 660 feet square. The population of Utah is 240,000; Salt Lake City, 65,000.

Great Salt Lake is 90 miles long by 40 wide. Height above sea level 4,226 feet. Bathing is considered the finest in the world.

Fort Douglas is three miles East of Main St.

One of the hotel folders gives this additional information:

"Have you heard that Salt Lake City is the center of a thriving country one thousand miles in diameter? A country that produces everything necessary to your prosperity? That from all portions of that vast empire the tribute of trade is daily paid to her?"

Have you heard about the climate how the breeze from the snow-clad peaks imprint upon the cheeks of the maidens the tint of beauty and health? How clear the the skies and genial the season? Have you heard that thousands come here every year to drink of the fountain of youth? That the salt air will drive away your diseases that "point you for the tomb?" Do you know that you can have a sea breeze four thousand feet above the tide? Have you heard of our Great Salt lake? What! Never heard of that? Never heard that one of nature's wonders, a sea 2,500 square miles in area with salt enough in it to pickle the dead of a thousand forgotten ages, is right here at our doors?

Have you heard that within the city limits the water of the Hot and Warm Springs are boiling over nature's furnaces, and that a square or two from the principal hotels you can bathe at the Sanitarium in their healing waters?

Have you heard that Salt Lake City has a hundred miles of brook-lined streets 132 feet wide?

Have you heard of the beauty of the Salt Lake Valley--a valley flowing away in waves of green between the broken ranges of the Wasatch and Obuirrh?

That our new buildings have cost fifteen million dollars?

That our clearances are one hundred and fifty million dollars per annum?"

Besides the various residences of Brigham Young, the apostle grave and many other places of interest were pointed out.

Senator Thos. Kearns, who was a common miner ten years ago, now owns the finest palace in the city. It cost $350,000 and is of white marble. The first floors are of ebony, the second of marble and the third of oak. There are many other fine residences and everywhere are to be seen evidences of wealth.

State street is 20 miles long and perfectly straight, extending clear across the valley from mountain to mountain.

We have met quite a number of Kentuckians here. Among them was Dr. S. W. Taliaferro, formerly a druggist of Hopkinsville. He
